Indonesia The Magic

Jakarta, Java, Bali, New Guinea, and Sumatra...

The Republic of Indonesia is located in the Malay Archipelago, the world's largest archipelago, between Indochina and Australia, and between the Indian and Pacific Oceans. Under the supervision of master sound producer Makoto Kubota, this special collection captures the musical magic of Java and Bali.

The most well known Indonesian music, Gamelan is an ensemble of instruments indigenous to the islands of Bali or Java (gamelan means orchestra). An ensemble is composed of small bronze metallophones tuned to a four or five - note scale, various gongs, flutes, drums and other percussion. Thanks to Makoto, valuable Sundanese Gamelan having the strong local color is offered in ACID format on the disc. Enjoy the comfortable and powerful samples. Gamelan is supplied both as ensemble and solo on the disc.

Jegog is also a world-famous Indonesian instrument. Jegog plays very low tone, and the ensemble is more powerful than ever before. The music is very fast, loud, rhythmic and precise. On this library, the music is offered as multi-samples so that both solo and ensemble are available.

Set of drums as Tabla is called Gendang in Indonesia. This library supplies a unique Gendang remodeled by the musician. The biggest attraction is the rich sounds and the way of playing created just by his two hands. The disc offers useful rhythm patterns and single shots.
