About Celt Islam

Abdullah Hamzah aka Celt Islam is an English convert to Islam, Sufi and a member of the northern British alternative dub/breaks outfit 'Nine Invisibles' and 'Analogue Fakir'. Celt Islam uses a fusion of music from Dub/Electro/Drum and Bass and collaborates it with Islamic/world grooves to create a Dub driven dance crossover.

Celt Islam works with many musicians and artists including Inder Goldfinger (Ian Brown, Natacha Atlas-Apesta) Mick Reed (1919, Ship of Fools and Nine Invisibles), Bongo Chilli, D Bo General and DanMan (Iration Steppers).

Celt Islam creates music in quite a diverse range of styles and genres. He produces Sufi inspired Global Grooves to create a sometimes Meditative Dub that transfixes everybody who comes across it, to Electro-Dub driven Drum and Bass to satisfy the dance world.

Celt Islam is probably best known to date for his work in the Sufi-Dub genre which he is probably alone in trying to create and to help define as a sub-genre. He does so in collaboration with some respected names such as Inder Goldfinger, tabla player for Stone Roses legend, Ian Brown's band and Natacha Atlas and Dawoud Kringle who has recorded and performed with the likes of Lauryn Hill.

Using the Samples

Thanks for buying this Royalty Free Sample Collection from Loopmasters, every care has been taken to ensure that you can start using these samples easily in your productions, but you may find the following notes useful.

Wav/Acid and Rex2 File Users

Simply copy the pack to the hard drive containing your samples and use your music software to locate the files that you are looking for in the easily navigable folder structures

Stylus RMX Users

The folder Structure for Rex files on this Loopmasters title is fully compatible with stylus RMX. Ensure you have the latest version of STYLUS RMX and the Sage converter.

To Import: First copy the Download to your hard drive, then simply drag the folder inside the REX FILES folder onto the "Import Rex Files" button on your sage converter found in the Spectrasonics folder on your hard drive. Wait for the sage converter to finish.

To Play: Open up an instance of RMX within your sequencer.

On the directory select user "libraries" and you will see the imported library click on this and you should now see all the suites and elements in the browser.

Halion Users

Once you have loaded the CD/Download onto your computer, use Halions's File browser to locate the main folder on your hard drive then locate the folder named SAMPLER PATCHES, from here locate the HALION folder Finally click (+) on the folder of patches you wish to load e.g. DRUMS, then drag the Halion patches into the main Programs Window.

Alternatively highlight the folder type e.g. Drums and press the Import button to load all of the patches from that folder.

NOTE: When Loading Halion Patches you may need to locate the samples.

IMPORTANT ensure you have copied the entire CD or pack folder to your hard drive first and unpacked if necessary.

This is simply done by double clicking the fpx file (Halion Patch) within the Halion Browser window, and when prompted click on the automatic or manual search button, then locate the Root folder of the pack or CD you have purchased, Halion will then find the samples for the patch.

If you wish you can then resave the patch so you will not have to repeat this procedure.
