

Computer Kore

Formats: Wav Acid Rex2 Reason Refill Apple Loops GarageBand

Genres : Glitch Techno Dubstep Bassline Hard Dance

The Industrial Strength sound design team is back with its most insane sample pack of the year! Computer Core consists of mad sound FX, distorted bass drums, noise sounds and dark atmospheres to add that extra edge to your production.

The pack contains perfectly cut Rex 2, Acid wav and Apple Loops for ease of use in any DAW. The pack is also available as a Reason Refill.

This Core pack is armed with 53 insane noises, 11 atmospheres and 95 pounding loops from 145 bpm to 160 bpm. Loads of one shots are also included so you can program your own mad grooves.

The drum hits can be used on their own or can be layered with your sounds and can be used in any Hard Electronic production.

Laced with mechanical sounds, machine like patterns and distorted drum loops the pack can be used in many applications such as video games, music and sound FX.

The pack is unique in the fact that is made completely with plug-ins, such as digital distortion, tube distortion, freeware and strange Vst plug-ins not normally used on a daily bases by most producers.

This will give that extra edge to your work especially for Mac and Pro Tools users who cannot usually access these plug-ins.

Produced by Fiend, a long time DJ, producer & sound designer, Computer Kore is loaded with fierce overtones, distorted drums and mind bending FX which are great for Industrial, Hardcore, Nu Metal, Tekno, DnB, Breakcore, Gothic and Power Noise. Fiend brings his vast knowledge of producing music and sound designing all in jam packed collection.

If you're looking to add mad texture or hard sounds to your production work then Computer Core is the pack for you.
